

QUALITY POLICY STATEMENT

"It is the policy of Hurst Scientific Pty Ltd to clearly define, communicate, and understand the work requirements; conform to the requirements; and perform jobs right the first time."

Hurst Scientific's commitment to total quality management is founded in our company values. These values serve as our standard for performance measurement, our motivation for excellence in execution, our foundation for guiding our decision-making, and our impetus for continuous improvement.

The achievement of quality dictates the establishment and implementation of a formal programme to ensure that quality standards are achieved throughout the company's operations. The achievement of quality is the responsibility of the managers who manages the work. Each employee is expected to perform his or her tasks the first time in accordance with project procedures or other requirements. The name Hurst Scientific must represent quality to our employees, the clients we serve, and the markets in which we work.

We are committed to working with our suppliers and offering the highest level of service available to achieve our goal of bringing to our customers the best quality product for the most competitive price.
